

A Week in Limericks, by Rev. James Barnhill (Posted 10-04-16)

Gary Johnson tries hard to remember;
of Aleppo or Fox not a glimmer.
But if Trump can hide taxes, and Hil' emails and faxes, should we try for a POTUS who's dimmer?

And the twitter-sphere's now all a glitter,
Ms. Universe should be much slimmer.
Trump condemns what she eats, says she's fattened on sweets.
Has he looked once or twice in the mirror?

We send robots and men into space,
and pursue cancer's cure at a pace.
We have armies and more, build sky-scrapers galore.
So why can't we make our trains safe?

We learn Deutche Bank's too big to fail.
and Wells Fargo goes WAY 'yond the pale.
But if we must attack to claw our dough back,
THEN WHY AREN'T THESE BANKERS IN JAIL???

And in Greenville we see children lie
in caskets 'cause more bullets fly.
It's the land of the free, but it just seems to me;
How can freedom live where children die?
